President Delivers Conciliatory Address at Ottawa

GOLDFINE WILL PRODUCE SOME FINANCIAL RECORDS COMMITTEE IS SEEKING

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators developed today that Bernard Goldfine was entertaining a group of business associates at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel in 1954 when Sherman Adams was also his guest here.

Goldfine, who was in trouble with the Federal Trade Commission at the time, swore that Adams did not come to New York by prearrangement to meet with him and his business associates.

He said Adams, his close friend and No. 1 aide to President Eisenhower, just happened to be in New York and accepted his hospitality at the hotel.

The Boston textile man was under questioning by the special House subcommittee exploring the kind of treatment he has received from federal regulatory agencies and the question of whether the agencies have been influenced by his friendship with Adams.

Both Goldfine and Adams have denied there was ever any attempt at influence or that Goldfine got preferred treatment.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard Goldfine agreed today to give House investigators some of the financial records demanded from him.

With this promise, there was an amicable start on his renewed visit to the witness chair of a House subcommittee looking into his relations with presidential aide Sherman Adams and the way federal regulatory agencies have dealt with Goldfine.

Goldfine, Boston millionaire textile man, showed up on time for the 10 a. m. hearing. He had had an extra day to rest up with postponement of Tuesday's hearings.

The delay was granted on a plea that the 67-year-old Goldfine was exhausted by such weekend excitement as the exposure of an attempt by a committee staff investigator to listen in on hotel room conversations of Goldfine aides and the reported theft of some of Goldfine's papers.

At the outset, Goldfine and his attorney, Roger Robb, agreed that some records demanded by Chairman Oren Harris would be supplied.

Harris also asked the Boston industrialist to tell about 33 names the subcommittee put in the public record last week.

The subcommittee said the list included persons who were in White House and Capitol Hill offices. Goldfine said he sent checks to these people at Christmas time.

Goldfine's lawyers indicated their man would tell what happened to nearly $777,000 worth of his companies' checks which remained uncashed for years. But they also indicated he would stay mum on grounds it's not the subcommittee's business—as to why the checks were handled that way.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) says his House investigators have a right to delve into the checks because they were bought by Goldfine holding and textile companies which are subject to federal regulatory agencies under investigation.

It was in an argument over pertinency that the Harris subcommittee first brought to light records showing gifts by Goldfine to Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide, and other federal officials.

Goldfine got a one-day reprieve from questioning after his lawyers complained the (Turn to Page Nine)

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP)—U. S. Vice Consul Robert Wiecha planned to return to rebel country today and said he has hopes some of the 30 U. S. servicemen kidnapped by Fidel Castro's men will be released before nightfall.

The 25-year-old vice consul from Saginaw, Mich., and Raymond Elmore, 53, Haynesville, La., came out of the Santa Catalina Mountains by Navy helicopter Tuesday. Wiecha had been in the area held by Castro's rebels for 10 days trying to recover North Americans kidnapped by the Cuban insurgents.

This is what they say about some current popular songs: "Wear My Ring Around Your Neck"—encourages going steady, which members of the group oppose.

"Yakety Yak"—implies that parental requests for little jobs around the house are nothing but nagging.

As for the contest, no music is required, just lyrics.

They have opened a national "Better Lyrics" contest with $500 in prizes for the five best sets of lyrics by boys and girls in the 13-to-19 age group.

The contest is being promoted by 510 students who are members of Contact, a Catholic movement for high school students. Money for the prizes is

De Gaulle Too Busy Too Accept Ike Invitation

PARIS (AP)—Premier de Gaulle wrote President Eisenhower today that he would be too busy to visit Washington in the next few months "but I am sure we will find the means in the future to see one another."

De Gaulle was replying to a letter of invitation delivered to him last week by Secretary of State Dulles during his trip to Paris.

Newspaper Guild Reaches Accord On New Contract

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The American Newspaper Guild and the Philadelphia Inquirer agreed on a new two-year contract Tuesday thus ending a 38-day strike.

At the same time full distribution of the city's two major newspapers—the Inquirer and the Bulletin—was resumed, formally ending a strike of delivery truck drivers which began May 30.

The drivers, members of Teamsters Local 68, reached a settlement with the two newspapers, through the Newspaper Publishers Assn. of Philadelphia, June 6.

The Bulletin put its drivers back on the payroll. Deliveries were not resumed, however, because the Inquirer drivers refused to cross the Guild picket lines, and the publishers association—also representing the Inquirer—said drivers were obligated to go back to work at the same time at both newspapers. The Bulletin has no Guild unit.

The Guild agreement came 4 hours after the Inquirer unit had overwhelmingly turned down a proposed settlement reached with the help of federal mediators.

The Guild strike involved 710 employees of the Inquirer news and clerical departments.

Sudden Squall Tosses 80 Kiddies Into Water

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP)—More than 80 children were tossed into Long Island Sound Tuesday by a sudden squall that overturned a sailing race and overturned nearly 40 boats. All were saved.

Three U. S. Coast Guard cutters, two planes and a small armada of private boats converged on the scene off the Riverside Yacht Club.

A regatta official said a majority of the 113 boats that took part in the junior yacht race had already finished when the squall hit.

Patty Miller, 13, Mamaroneck, N. Y., suffered the only injury—a broken leg.

Death Stalks Mother And Daughter Reunion

SEATTLE (AP)—For Mrs. R.V. Hubbard of Seattle, a reunion with her mother Tuesday was short and tragic.

Mrs. Virginia M. Mitchell, 76, of San Diego had not seen Mrs. Hubbard for five years.

Stepping from a bus to spend the summer here, Mrs. Mitchell embraced and kissed her daughter. Then fatigue, emotion and age took their toll.

Mrs. Mitchell collapsed in her daughter's arms and died moments later.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower's delayed good will visit to Central America will begin Saturday.

The White House gave out that word Tuesday night after Dr. Eisenhower, brother of the President, returned by military plane from a two-week fishing trip in Wisconsin.

Pentagon officials were unavailable for comment on Eisenhower's use of two small military planes in returning his party from Wisconsin's Land o' Lakes region to Wausau, Wis., and a Military Air Transport Service Convair for the flight to Washington.

The White House wouldn't elaborate beyond saying the trip was advanced in date and Dr. Eisenhower returned to make preliminary arrangements.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Louis Romano, alleged Capone mobster, invoked the Fifth Amendment today in refusing to answer questions at Senate hearings on the rackets infested Chicago restaurant industry.

The committee heard testimony Tuesday that Frank (The Enforcer) Nitti, an overlord of Chicago crime, forced Romano into the labor movement as boss of the downtown Chicago Bartenders Union Local 278, to serve as a right-hand man for the mob.

Romano, wearing dark glasses, refused to tell the committee even where he was born.

Chicago Gang Boss Witness Before Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Louis Romano, alleged Capone mobster, invoked the Fifth Amendment today in refusing to answer questions at Senate hearings on the rackets infested Chicago restaurant industry.

The committee heard testimony Tuesday that Frank (The Enforcer) Nitti, an overlord of Chicago crime, forced Romano into the labor movement as boss of the downtown Chicago Bartenders Union Local 278, to serve as a right-hand man for the mob.

Romano, wearing dark glasses, refused to tell the committee even where he was born.

"I decline to answer on the grounds that it may tend to incriminate me," he said.

Romano had no lawyer with him while testifying as the leadoff witness in the second day of questioning in the committee's search for evidence of a nationwide underworld plot to muscle in on labor and industry.

Also scheduled to be questioned today is Abraham Teitelbaum, labor consultant to the Chicago Restaurant Assn.

Teitelbaum, onetime lawyer for the Capone family, subsequently became the $125,000-a-year counsel for the association.

The committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) voiced curiosity about Teitelbaum's reasons for hiring Romano as the restaurant association's labor expert after a state court had ousted Romano and placed Local 278 in receivership.

Teitelbaum was a major witness in a House investigation of tax scandals in the Truman administration, and now lives in Hollywood, Calif. Romano, the committee said, lives in Miami.

As the hearings got under way, Donald Strang, owner of a Niles, Ill., restaurant, testified that Illinois state police told him they could do nothing about union violence at his restaurant because they had been called off by the governor's office.

He said this was in June 1952, during the administration of Gov. Adlai Stevenson, but he said he didn't know who in the governor's (Turn to Page Nine)

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—"MacArthur's Butchers" are planning to return the Japanese battle flags they fought so bitterly to gain in the South Pacific jungles of World War II.

Veterans of the 41st Infantry Division, the outfit Tokyo Rose called "MacArthur's Butchers," plan to turn in their captured battle flags at a reunion July 18-20 for return to the families of Japanese soldiers from whom they were taken.

Lettering on the flags will be translated to determine to whom they should be sent.

District Steel Mills At 50 Per Cent Level

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh district steel mills will operate at a 50 per cent level this week, down one point from last week, Iron Age reported today.

The national metalworking publication said that in the Upper Ohio river district steel mills are expected to operate at 77 per cent of capacity, up 7 points from last week. Youngstown, Ohio, mills were slated to operate at 35 per cent of capacity, an increase of 4.5 points over last week.

SAYS NEIGHBOR NATIONS ARE FACING A PIVOTAL POINT IN WORLD HISTORY

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

OTTAWA (AP)—President Eisenhower told Canada's Parliament today that differences between the two neighbor nations can be solved and must not be allowed to overshadow the transcendent importance of free world cooperation in the winning of the global struggle against communism.

"We stand together at a pivotal point in history," Eisenhower told a warmly applauding Parliament. He was interrupted 10 times during his speech by members' applause and the traditional desk thumping.

"All that we Canadians and Americans, and those who went before us, have built, all that we believe in, is challenged as it has never been challenged before. The new horizons of competition range from the polar areas and extend to the infinity of outer space."

In conciliatory terms, the President got down to specific points of difference—U. S. wheat exports; American restrictions on oil imports; Canada's trade imbalance with the United States, and the heavy flow of American investment capital to Canada.

"There is no cause to be surprised or disturbed," Eisenhower said, "to discover that differences occasionally arise between the two nations."

But he said such differences can be talked out in friendship.

The setting for the presidential address was the great oak and stone chamber of the House of Commons in towering Parliament Building—a spot which has resounded more and more with criticism of the United States and its policies.

In awareness of such criticism, Eisenhower came to the Canadian capital Tuesday to attempt to strengthen ties of friendship which have been slipping.

Eisenhower was introduced by Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, with whom he is consulting on problems affecting the two nations.

The President made no mention in his address of a possible new channel for cooperation, in the realm of defense, through creation of joint Canadian-American Cabinet Committee on Defense.

The two leaders canvassed in tentative fashion the idea of setting up such a committee in the first of their official talks Tuesday. Details and decisions were reserved for later talks.

Turning to matters which he said are "troublesome between us," the President said that in disposing of surplus wheat overseas, the United States has no intent to damage normal commercial markets and that he thinks "we have been generally successful" in this.

Canadians have contended that the disposal program has cut into their commercial markets overseas. But Eisenhower said he con-

Three Babies in Six Minutes Hospital Record

CORRY, Pa. (AP)—Three babies were born at the Corry Memorial Hospital yesterday, something of a rarity for the small hospital.

More rare was the fact the births occurred within a 6-minute period.

And the proud parents all came from the small community of Watsburg which has only 50 families.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hall became the parents of a girl. The other infants are boys. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shampo and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kent.

Officers Elected at Heart Association Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Warren County Heart Association was held at the YWCA Activities Building Tuesday noon July 8. The program was in charge of Dr. L. W. Krespan, retiring president of the association. Highlights of the meeting were the election of officers for the coming year and the reading of the annual report.

H. E. LaPoint was elected president of the Warren County Heart Association for the coming year, July 1, 1958 through June 30, 1959. Other officers elected to serve with Mr. LaPoint were H. R. Dillenkofer, vice president; D. L. Curtis, president-elect; L. R. Gibson, treasurer, and Dr. A. A. Marceca, secretary.

Members of the executive committee, in addition to the officers, are M. E. Jewell, F. B. Foster, G. L. Coates, J. C. Nordin, Dr. L. W. Krespan, and W. F. Peterson. The Medical Advisory Board for the coming year consists of Dr. J. T. Valone, Dr. R. N. Donaldson, Dr. R. E. Lowe, Dr. L. J. Borger, and Dr. J. W. Larson.

Dr. Krespan presented Dr. Love, who was representing the Medical Advisory Board, a cufflink and tie clasp set bearing the emblem of the Heart Association. He also presented Dr. A. A. Marceca with a cufflink and tie clasp set in recognition of his service as 1958 campaign chairman. The past officers and members of the Executive Committee were presented with lapel pins.

In the absence of Mrs. Phyllis Duncan, executive secretary of the Warren County Heart Association, L. R. Gibson presented the annual report. He stated the purpose of the association which is to carry on a three-fold program of public education, community service, and research. 60% of all funds collected are used in Warren County, 25% of the funds go to the American Heart Association which has earmarked half of these funds for heart and cardiovascular research. The remaining 15% of the funds go to the Pennsylvania Heart Association.

In the field of professional education, the Heart Association provides the physicians of Warren County with all of the latest developments in the heart and cardiovascular field. The Heart Association purchased a heart model for the Warren General Hospital for use in teaching and refresher courses and Dr. Valone of the Medical Advisory Board gave a series of four lectures to nurses taking a refresher course.

In the field of community education during the past year the Warren County Heart Association co-sponsored a cardioclinical conference that was held at Kane, Pennsylvania to better acquaint both labor and management with the problems of the worker affected by heart disease, indicating possible methods of treatment and how the affected worker can still be gainfully employed. The association has continued to carry on its heart education program in the county junior and senior high schools. During the year more than 54,000 pieces of educational literature were distributed to the residents of Warren County.

In the field of community services, last year the Warren County Heart Association purchased two heart pacers which by the application of electrodes to the outside of the body can induce a stopped heart to beat again. One heart pacer has been placed in the operating room at the Warren General Hospital. The association has continued its rheumatic fever prevention program and has provided 126 patients at minimum cost with over 800 vials of bicillin for the prevention of recurrence of rheumatic fever, the forerunner of rheumatic heart disease in children.

The association has participated in the Warren County Health Fair and at the Youngsville Community Fair. Films, literature, and speakers have been made available for various groups, clubs, and organizations. The Association has referred several patients to the rehabilitation center at Erie and arranged for the Rehabilitation Counselor to speak to the Warren County Medical Association.

In accepting his election as president of the Warren County Heart Association, Mr. LaPoint pledged himself to continue the present program of the association and to foster an even greater understanding of the aims and purposes of the Warren County Heart Association in the coming year.

Bowers Undecided As to Support in The Fall Election

HARRISBURG (AP)—Clarence P. Bowers, who was defeated for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator at the May primary, said today he was unable "in good conscience" to support the party's winning ticket at the November election.

Bowers failed to indicate what his position would be during the fall election campaign.

The Reading Industrialist, who lost out to Gov. Leader for the U. S. senator nomination, filed a formal protest with John S. Rice, Commonwealth secretary, against what he termed "the methods used by the Democratic State Committee in filing so-called 'campaign expenditures'."

Rice was primary campaign manager for the Democratic organization ticket headed by Gov. Leader and Mayor David L. Lawrence, Pittsburgh, for governor.

Bowers ran on an anti-organization ticket, headed by Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman, for governor. Lawrence defeated Furman at the primary.

Bowers criticized fund raising and accounting methods by Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia, state and national Democratic finance chairman.

He charged there were hidden contributions to the Democratic organization's campaign and that state employees and state equipment were used by the Democratic organization during its campaign.

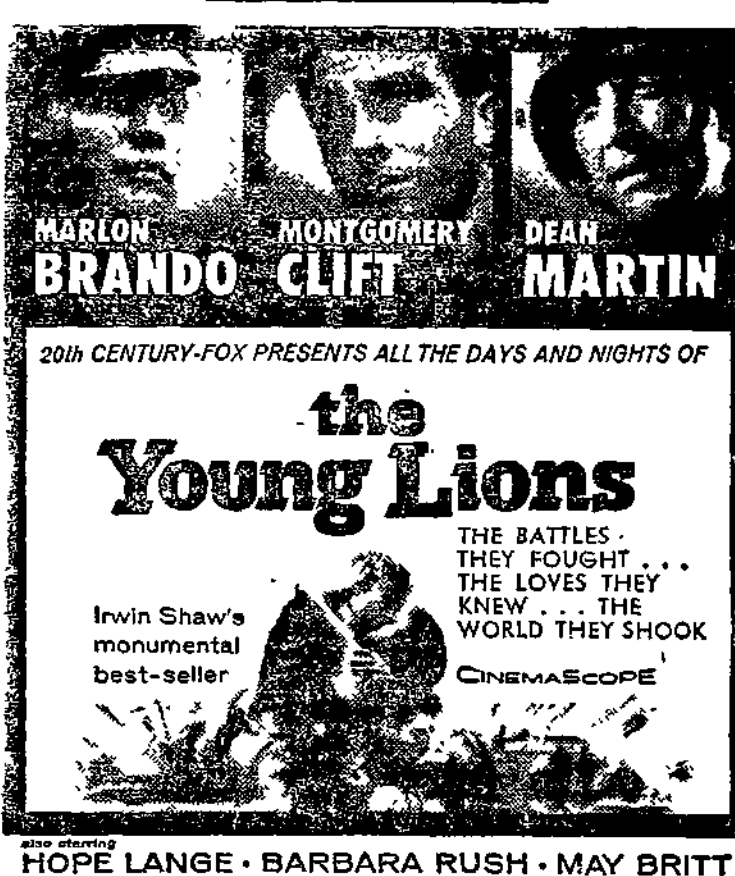

"Unfortunately," Bowers wrote Rice, "the Democratic party has become the captive party of the Matthew McCloskeys."

"I could not, in good conscience, support such an organization in the fall election."

Bowers left open the question of whether he would actively support Republican candidates.

Former Ragged Korean Boy Plans To Become Citizen

By RUSSELL LANE
QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—It's hard to believe that nine years ago Joseph Anthony was a ragged, dirty, hungry boy of the streets in Seoul, Korea.

Today, at 18 he's a pleasant, scholarly young man, preparing to take his oath of U.S. citizenship and to enter Quincy College in the fall.

"Oh I'd have become a full-fledged citizen long ago," he said. "But the law requires that an immigrant reside in this wonderful country five years before he may be naturalized—and that is wise."

Joe was a hard-bitten, veteran ragamuffin when he encountered American soldiers and fell in love with the United States at the outbreak of the Korean War. His American dream began with kindness of an Army sergeant who fed him, and was nurtured by the good will he found everywhere doing odd jobs for soldiers and airmen. His translated his name from Shu to Joe, or, more often, Little Joe.

An Air Force colonel smuggled him to Japan where a chaplain, the Rev. Donald Worr, took charge of his fortunes. Father Worr now assistant to the president of Quincy College gave Joe his last name --- in honor of St. Anthony, patron of lost objects. He prepared Joe for coming to the United States, and hundreds of servicemen helped.

Today, Father Worr is Joe's legal guardian.

Joe spent the first year of his residence in the United States as a citizen of Boy's Town, Neb. He has lived in Quincy for the last four years. Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Biller, friends of Father Worr, have provided him with a home. He graduated from Notre Dame

High School May 30 in the upper 5 per cent of his class and won a scholarship from the Adams County Medical Society.

Joe is polishing up a 100,000-word book "The Boy from Korea," which tells his story. He has talked on freedom and citizenship before 52 high school audiences, and won fifth place this year in the National High School Oratorical Contest.

WARREN MONEY AHEAD OF STATE DIRECTIVE

As Warren sewage treatment plant progresses toward completion, many other municipalities throughout the state are finding themselves cut off without federal and state aid possibilities because of lagging plans.

This community and surrounding area, by virtue of some most fortuitous timing, received a quarter million dollars in federal aid toward a project which will save consumers that much in payments with water bills over the next 30-odd years.

Numerous other Pennsylvania cities and townships are not so fortunate.

The Commonwealth has already instituted action in Commonwealth Court, Harrisburg, to compel Wilkes-Barre to provide facilities for treatment of its sewage. The state told that municipality to begin preparations in 1944, issued its final order to build, effective June 1, 1950.

In addition that directive covered all areas of the Susquehanna River watershed which did not have facilities.

Any municipality which goes beyond the time limit set by the state order will be denied (or certainly have great difficulty) in securing state reimbursement at a later date. Local taxpayers across the Commonwealth are saddled with the additional millions in costs for innumerable projects now lagging in preparations.

Included in this category, for instance, are McKeesport, Duquesne, Versailles, Port Vue, White Oak, Glassport, Dravosburg and Elizabeth Township, in the Pittsburgh area.

The Clean Streams program has also resulted in orders for construction of treatment plants in Hopewell Township, Beaver County, in Middletown Township, Delaware Co., Greenville in Mercer Co., Sewickley in Allegheny Co., plus many other specific industries across the state which have been polluting streams with industrial wastes.

Warren Sanitary Authority and Council members are to be congratulated for getting the local program underway at a time when federal aid could substantially lessen the costs, and for early initiation of costs which cut overall expenses another $70,000 to $80,000 to water consumers benefitting by the sanitary system.

of changing the time of the regular weekly band concert from Wednesday evening to Tuesday night."

Speaking of bands, here's a "handout" from our old friend and contributor Pete Pepke about a well known musical organization of the present day: The famous Warren Novelty Band, under the direction of Jos Damond will provide the music for the Soap Box Derby Day Parade. This favorite Warren musical group was acclaimed the hit of the July 4th parade and has accepted many engagements resulting from their fine appearance. The parade will step off from in front of Beatty Jr. High School this Saturday, July 12 at 12:30 sharp. The ten bandmen, attired in their knobby red shirts, will provide their usual brand of "happy old time music" for the marchers. Members of the band include Cooney Stillwell and Bob Benson, trumpets; Jerry McCune, alto horn; Nails Reynolds, bass horn; Jos. Damond, bantone horn; H. Chase Putnam, Jr., drums; Jimmy Dibble, trombone; and the clarinet section of Bob Still, Joe Conti and John Damond. A surprise guest at their regular Monday evening practice session this week was former well-known bandleader Leidy Williams. Leidy directed his old musicians in several selections. He will be remembered for his efforts with the Veterans Band, Moose Band, Pleasant Township Fire Department Band, and Williams Band. Warren's Famous Novelty Band is available for additional engagements at modest rates for picnics, fairs, celebrations, and outings. Business manager of the band that "plays for fun" is Pete Pepke at the Warren Bank and Trust Company.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Canada, like every fast-growing country, is suffering growing pains. And very humanly she is inclined to put the blame on others.

President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker likely will be looking into some of these pains today and into how much American businessmen are involved.

Their dollar and cents involvement has grown enormously in the last few years and that is causing much of the pain and friction.

The two leaders also will look into trade barriers between the two neighbors — and into fears on both sides that some of them will be increased.

Canada's large industrial expansion has had to be financed in great part by outside capital. The United States went through the same phase many years ago and got much of the needed funds from British capitalists. The resultant control of many American enterprises by British subjects and the flow overseas of profits from these companies caused much resentment here.

Canada has got much of its needed funds from American corporations and American investors.

Long-term investments in Canada by U. S. corporations is now estimated at around eight billion dollars, up about two billion in three years.

The pain comes from the charge by Canadians that U. S. firms aren't letting Canadians help run the companies set up there, and the fear that Canadian resources will be exploited and the profits cross the border.

The influx of American investments has also let Canada offset its unfavorable trade balance with the United States. They buy more from us than we do from them, and without the American investments there would be a dollar gap making the Canadian dollar shaky.

Diefenbaker would like to buy less from the United States to help close the trade gap. Since Canada is one of our best customers, buying around 300 million dollars a month, American businessmen are disturbed at this proposal.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

Editor's Note: Jack Bell is substituting for James Marlow.

By JACK BELL

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine's energetic lawyers and publicity men couldn't have helped their client more if they had written the script themselves.

A new political complexion has been put on what is currently the nation's most publicized inquiry by the word, after-midnight episode of the "bugging" of a hotel room occupied by Goldfine's aides, and the subsequent firing of a congressional investigator caught in the act.

The political cake was fed by the reported pilfering of documents from the hotel room of Goldfine's secretary.

Bernard Goldfine, the self-styled poor boy from Russia who became a rich, gift-giving friend of the mighty in public office, temporarily is cast in a martyr's role.

He now can claim he is the intended victim of undercover operations that, as his legal and publicity experts helped him say, were "worse than being in Russia."

Baron L. Shacklette, the now departed investigator for the House subcommittee on legislative oversight, has said he was overzealous in planting a microphone at the door of a room occupied by Goldfine's helpers.

As a target for that action, the Boston industrialist has assumed the status of an underdog.

He is in a position to cry persecution when pressed about his financial affairs. He now can suggest — with a certain amount of public sympathy — that there may be some dirty business behind the inquiry into why he paid hotel bills for presidential assistant Sherman Adams, loaned him a $2,400 Oriental rug and gave him the vicuna cloth for an expensive coat.

Investigations usually are messy affairs. People don't tell on themselves voluntarily. Most tips come from enemies of those under investigation. The informer — or stoolpigeon, if you prefer — is an accepted source of tips in criminal inquiries. Hotel rooms have been bugged before, telephones tapped.

The public knows this. But it doesn't like to think such methods would be employed by a congressional committee. When any of them are the suspicion arises that politics — and not fair play — is in command.

Because the Democrats control the congressional committees, they can't escape any odium that may attach itself to their staffs.

The House subcommittee is a bad light, its motives under suspicion. Republicans who wish to defend Adams have an opening to cry such. Democrats can blame Shacklette and his "bug" for causing an issue they believed might go big for them, in November and in 1960.

Here and There

Fifty years ago the Evening Mirror, in an article in the Daily Reflections column, announced: "The Fire Department has developed a plan for increasing the fire alarm system of the borough. The borough will be divided into districts and in each district a sign will be posted in a conspicuous place, on which will be a number and the words 'In case of fire telephone this number to the department.' When the alarm is telephoned to the central station a disc is placed in a wheel which will automatically cause the fire whistle to blow and the bells to ring. By this method about 25 additional alarm stations can be established at a small cost. The regular alarm boxes cost about $125 each. The school buildings of the borough will also be fitted with a device whereby an alarm of fire can be sent from the school structure at the same time that each room can be warned of danger. Three more regular alarm boxes of the department have been placed at necessary points. No 53 is located at Jefferson street and Conewango avenue; No. 14 at the corner of East street and Fifth avenue, and No. 77 at Wayne street and Main avenue, with No. 71 transferred to Wayne and Oneida."

And here's another item from the same column back in 1908 that will doubtless interest some old time citizens: "People who went to Crescent Park last evening to hear the band concert were disappointed. The band stand was not lighted and no uniformed men could be seen by the crowds that gathered. The band was to have given its concert Tuesday evening instead of Wednesday, but was prevented by rain. Wednesday evening being the regular time for the concert, the citizens presumed that the concert would take place. One of the leading members of the band explained this morning that six of the members who play the principal instruments were called to play for a dance at the State Armory and this so weakened the band that the music they could produce would be far from entertaining. There is some talk

Milk Run--Cutting--Do Unto Others--Ad Lib--Prescription--Trees (a Poem)

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN AND JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondents

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson will stop at nothing in his campaign to sell more milk. He has browbeaten the U. S. airlines into offering milk—along with the usual coffee, tea and fruit juices—for snacks served to passengers. To show their appreciation, the airlines sent a bevy of pretty hostesses to serve milk and sandwiches at the last meeting of the National Agricultural Advisory Commission.

But now the secretary has come up with a new one, and this may get him into trouble. "There should be a 'milk break' instituted," he told his last news conference, "at the National Press Club."

TURKISH PRESS Attache Altetmur Kilic heard through his neighborhood grapevine that the woman living next door to him in Chevy Chase was planning to upbraid him for not mowing his lawn.

And the other day she finally caught him as he took out the trash. Making an oblique approach she demanded, "Mr. Kilic, what do you do with all your spare time?"

"My hobby is raising healthy grass," he said, "and don't you think I'm quite successful at it?"

A faint "yes" was all she could come back with.

WITH ALL THE criticism that's being heaped on the Administration these days, government officials have started adding a personal touch to their relations with the press.

Other day at a congressional committee hearing, UPI photographer Ed Alley tripped over a chair and sprawled flat on his face. The first person who rushed to help him up was the chief witness, Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks.

THE D.C. WEATHERMAN added a dramatic, although premature, touch to the outdoor performance the other night of the Boy Choir Presenting Amphitheatre Concert

Presenting its second concert of the 1958 Chautauqua season, Warren Boy Choir will be heard in the amphitheatre at 8:30 p. m. Thursday. The group will be under the direction of Byron L. Swanson and will have as accompanist Miss Adelaide Swanson, both of Warren Conservatory of Music.

The choir has prepared a program entirely different from that presented in its earlier appearance during summer camp at Chautauqua and will be singing the following selections:

I. Ascendit Deus, and Adamus to Christe, Palestrina; Hour Harps and Cymbals, from the Handel oratorio "Solomon", arranged for two choirs by Grace Williams.

II. Nymphs and Shepherds, Purcell; Aubade, and Echo Song, di Lasso.

III. Clouds, Bircaak; Brother James Air, Baine; Old Boat Zion, white man's spiritual, Shure.

IV. Folk Songs From Many Lands: England — My Lady Greensleeves; Scotland — Scottish Pipers; Sweden — Vermland; Germany — The Lorelei; Yugoslavia — In Korensko; Spain — La Spagnola; America — Yankee Glory.

CENTRAL UNION

Central WCU members will hold their annual picnic at 1:30 p. m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ray Brownell, 100 Hill street, each to bring a tureen and table service. Other committee members are Mrs. Margaret Nelson and Miss Ellen Sander, with Miss Lulu Boyd in charge of the program.

North and South vulnz. 4-10
South West. North East
2-4 5-6 Pass Pass
6-7 Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead—4 K
North's pass discouraged Seymour about seven and his problem was the choice between a conservative five and a gambling six bid. He finally decided on six.

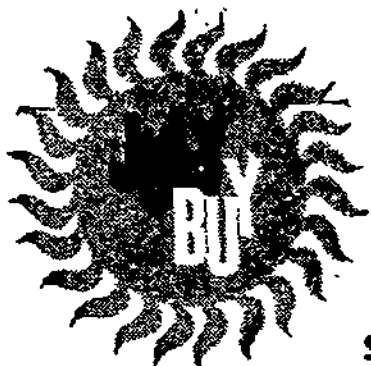

West considered defending at seven clubs but thought that things were not going to break too well for Mr. Topping and maybe six spades would not make.

North and East passed also and West opened the king of clubs and continued the suit. Seymour ruffed and noted that he had a potential heart loser.

He could run out all his trumps and hope for heart discards or maybe the heart suit would break 3-3 anyway.

Mr. Topping decided that he would have a much better chance to play East for being long in both major suits. Hence he played one trump only and then led out his ace, king and queen of hearts.

West showed out on the third heart lead, but since his only trump had gone on the one trump lead there was nothing West could do. Mr. Topping trumped his small heart in dummy.

Briggs and McAvoy Nuptials Read In Presbyterian Church in Capital

White gladioli and snapdragons, with white tapers, decorated Northminster Presbyterian church in Washington, D. C., July 3 for the marriage of Ruth McAvoy, niece of Mrs. E. Sherman Cox of Washington, to Gerry Allen Briggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Briggs of Russell.

The Rev. William H. Kepler officiated for the double ring ceremony; Mrs. Budd W. Boyer, Hyattsville, Md., was at the organ; Robert H. Gleason, Tacoma, Park, Md., sang "Until" and "The Lord's Prayer"; his wife playing his accompaniment.

The bride chose a ballerina length gown of white nylon lace and net, with a pearl tiara holding her short veil, and carried a colonial bouquet of white baby rosebuds encircled with white carnations.

She was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Cox, and was attended by her sisters, June McAvoy as maid of honor and Joanne McAvoy as bridesmaid. Both of Washington, they wore ballerina gowns of lavender nylon and also carried colonial bouquets of rosebuds and carnations.

Best man was William Harris of Georgetown, Washington, D. C.; ushering were Loyd Briggs, Warren, and Budd W. Boyer, Hyattsville.

Mrs. Cox, aunt of the bride, chose mauve silk organza and lace, with mauve and white accessories, Mrs. Briggs was in blue nylon and white accessories.

The reception followed at the bride's home, more than 125 guests attending. Among these were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Mary F. Engle, and son, Dennis, of Princeton, N. J.; his brother, Raymond Briggs, Mrs. Briggs and three children, Russell; and another brother, Loyd Briggs, wife and two children, Warren; a great-aunt of the bride, Mrs. Sarah Barclay, Homer City, Mrs. Howard Bohn, York; Penny Boyer, Hyattsville, Md.

The bride chose a blue and white ensemble for a two-week honeymoon in Northern Canada. Returning, they will be at home after July 17 at Georgetown, where Mr. Briggs is associated with Georgetown University Hospital as a medical photographer.

The bride, graduate of Green Township, Pa., High School, is associated with McLachlen Bank in Washington. Mr. Briggs, Warren High graduate, served two years in the Navy, and completed a two-year course in medical photography at Rochester General Hospital.

Honoring the bride-elect a surprise shower was given June 30 by Pauline Leatherland.

Virginia Esther Van Ord Is Bride of Vane Kiffer, Jr., in Lander Church

Virginia Esther, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Van Ord, Jr., of Akeley RD 2, became the bride of Vane Kiffer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Vane Kiffer, Sr., of Tionesta Star Route 2, in a double ring ceremony performed July 5 in Lander Methodist church.

Officiating at 2:00 p. m. was the Rev. John Ruggie, with Mrs. Eleanor Ludwick, Lander, as organist, and Mrs. Kay Van Ord singing "I Love You Truly," "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer." At the altar were two large baskets of white gladioli, with lighted tapers, and palms.

Wearing a ballerina gown of white taffeta with lace overlay, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown featured a bodice-box of white satin and had a matching lace jacket with long tapering sleeves. Her veil and headdress were self-fashioned of illusion net, with the latter made by the bridegroom's mother, of small medallions. Completing her outfit, she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and hilly of the valley streamers, the bridegroom's gift.

As maid of honor, Nancy Swanson of Akeley wore a ballerina gown of powder blue dotted swiss and net. Her headdress was fashioned of yellow and white carnations to match her colonial bouquet.

Mr. Kiffer had as best man Thomas Smith Kinzua; ushering were the bride's brothers, Howard Van Ord of Youngsville and Ronald Van Ord, Akeley.

Each wearing a corsage of red roses, the bride's mother was in powder blue, with seed pearl trim; the bridegroom's mother and the bride's grandmother, in navy blue.

Pink and white rose buds and mock orange blossoms featured reception arrangements in the church parish house, where Mrs. Helen Van Ord served the cake; Betty Huckabone was at the punch bowl; Delores Wilcox and Mrs. Peggy Dalymple pouted, Cora Van Ord had the guest book, and aides were Sandra and Roberta Rhoades and Marie Van Ord.

Out of town guests were from Texas; Utica, Mich.; Niagara Falls, Jamestown, North Clymer, and Bush, N. Y.; Erie, Sugar Grove, Chandeliers Valley, Kinzua, Warren, Clarendon, Russell, Pittsfield, Akeley, Endeavor, Meadville, Youngsville and Yankee Bush.

For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the bride traveled in a white dacron flock, white accessories and her white orchid. Returning July 12, the couple will live in Tionesta Star Route 2.

The bride, graduate of Eisenhower High School in 1958 and employed by S. S. Kresge Co., has been honored with parties given by Nancy Swanson; Mrs. Helen Van Ord; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Van Ord, Jr.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Meet Ricky Nelson, doubtless the highest-paid 18-year-old in the nation.

Ricky is the youngest of the talented Nelson clan. Not only does he appear on the Ozzy and Harriet TV show with his parents and brother David. The lad also sells millions of records and has drawn up to 26,000 people—Minnesota State Fair—at singing appearances.

He's now making his first dramatic move, playing a young gun slinger in "Rio Bravo." Here is the result of a question-and-answer session.

Q. Pat Wayne said he read you're worth 1½ million dollars. Is that true?

A. I don't know what I'm worth. I never see the money.

Q. Where is it?

A. In the bank. I get it when I'm 21.

Q. What are you going to do with it?

A. Spend it.

Q. What do you live on now?

A. My folks give me money when I ask for

SOCIETY

Golden Anniversary

A pleasant reunion of the Long family, held June 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Larson, was highlighted by a surprise celebration in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Long, 102 East St. Clair street, who are this year observing their golden wedding anniversary.

A late afternoon lunch was served from a buffet table prettily appointed to carry out the golden theme and dominated by a three-tier wedding cake. As the guests, numbering about 50, assembled to toast the "bride and groom", Mrs. Long was presented with a beautiful corsage and Mr. Long with a boutonniere. Both were remembered with many other gifts and cards.

Special guests included Mrs. Long's sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Madden, Springboro, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tozier and family, Albion, Pa.; also Mr. Long's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Long and family, Warren.

The celebrants are parents of five children, T. Roger Long, Erie; Glenn Long and Mrs. Patricia Gebhardt, East Springfield; Gerald Long and Mrs. Lucille Larson, Warren. They also have 16 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren, most of whom were on hand for this happy occasion.

Flower Arrangement Clinic on Thursday

Nearly 30 clubs of the area, including distances as far as Erie, have been invited by Warren Garden Club to send members to its Flower Arrangement Clinic to be held Thursday afternoon in the YWCA auditorium.

The program, for which admissions may be secured at the door, will begin at one o'clock and will feature Clark Kennedy, nationally-known flower expert from Buffalo, in floral arrangements both new and different.

Local persons planning participation in the Garden Club-Woman's Club Flower Show in the fall will want to take advantage of Mr. Kennedy's instruction, while others may wish just to enjoy his beautiful creations.

Arrangements for the clinic have been in the capable hands of a committee headed by Mrs. Edwin Africa, assisted by Mrs. James Richards, ticket chairman, and Mrs. Lockwood Towne. Publicity has been handled by Mrs. Charles Tranter, chairman, with Mrs. Julius Fino, Mrs. R. Pierson Eaton and Mrs. Alex Fino.

CIRCLE OUTING

In spite of nasty weather, 18 members and guests of Effie Mission Circle of St. Paul's Lutheran church enjoyed a hamburger-hot dog fry at the Everett Borg residence, 104 Lincoln avenue, at 6:00 p. m. Monday. The August meeting will be a tureen-picnic at the Ristau River Front on the Kinzua road.

HILLTOPPERS MEET

Six members of the Fifth Street Hilltoppers 4-H Club attended the regular meeting at the home of Ellis Homan. After the business session, each member gave a report on project progress. Bernie Wingert, agricultural director, showed films and gave a review of flowers, annuals, biennials and perennials. Next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Bill Dove at 10:30 a. m. July 30.

The Mature Parent

'Love Me for Myself' Is Parents' Unrealistic Wish

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The motorcycle could be had for $60. Bud had $20 in his savings account. Never in his life would he forget it if his father advanced the remaining $40.

Said Bud earnestly to his father, "Doug's only selling it because he's bought some guy's old heap. Gosh, Dad, it's the deal of my life!"

His father gave him the $40. And was thanked with sincerity and exuberance.

But his pleasure in Bud's satisfaction didn't last. No sooner had his excited son left for Doug's house than he began to attack his own kindness.

He thought, "I'm a fool. I'm spoiling the kid. At 17 I had to work for what I wanted by clerking in Pop's store. Otherwise I didn't get it. Why did I trust Bud's judgment on this motorcycle? How do I know he won't smash himself up with it?"

But fear for Bud's safety was not his real reason for resenting the favor he had done him.

His real reason was his suspicion that his children love him, not for himself, but for the things he gives them. So whenever he is moved by a generous impulse to do them some special favor, he immediately starts to begrudge their joy in it.

This "love-me-for-myself-alone" wish is not unusual.

It is, however, pretty unrealistic.

Only little children and very romantic ladies can expect to be loved for "themselves alone." The rest of us have to provide satisfactions to others if we want them to love us.

If we want Bud to love us, we cannot ignore his passion for a motorcycle but have to give it serious thought. If we want Jane to love us, we'll plan to satisfy her wish for the wrist watch she's been talking about. If we don't provide our husband with a clean home and well-cooked meals, we may lose him.

Just as we are entitled to satisfactions from others' love, they are entitled to satisfactions from ours.

If we don't see the absurdity of our secret wish to be loved for "ourselves alone," we may end up like the romantic ladies who insist that their lovers be content with their beautiful souls.

Gathered From The Party Line

Mr. and Mrs. Chris A. Pepke and son, North Warren, were holiday guests of Henry L. Vonderheid at the Red Rock Game Farm in the Pismire Mountains.

Mr. Vonderheid operates Von Bros. Circus, several travelling amusement shows, and the Game Farm in Ricketts Glen State Park, Pennsylvania Route 115.

Mrs. Carl F. Wittke and son, Bobby, of Cleveland, O., spent the holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Erickson, 15 Franklin street.

John Borne has returned to New York City following a weekend visit with his mother, Mrs. Irene Borne, 1411 Pennsylvania avenue, east.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Marshall, Cleveland, O., spent the Fourth of July weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Carlson in Sheffield.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Storum, 201 Jackson avenue, have returned home after vacationing in southern states and visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Miller, Norfolk, Va. While in Norfolk, they attended the commissioning ceremony aboard the USS Orion, when Mr. Miller was sworn in as ensign in the United States Navy.

A note from Donald B. Smith of Harrisburg, well known former East Side druggist, reports he expects to leave soon to be with his son in Germany.

YMCA Secretary and Mrs. Julius Thorn, 26 Franklin street, are happy with the news that their son, George W. Thorn, who recently was graduated from Butler University in Indianapolis, Ind., was honored with a special award "for making the greatest contribution to the theatre at Butler University". The young graduate is currently serving as stage manager at the Tamm Theatre in the Poconos, and his wife is assistant costume designer at the same spot.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kwiatkowski, with their children, Marge and Frankie, Pittsfield, RD 1, have been spending a week's vacation with their son, John, and daughter-in-law, Ruth Ann, in Kittery, Me., making the trip by motor. Frankie remained for a month's vacation and will return home when Mary Ann goes for her visit the latter part of this month. They report a wonderful time, including seeing John play in three ball games with the Navy team; also mammoth fireworks on the Fourth at Portsmouth, N. H.

Mirrored in Our Times

This community certainly has the knack for coming up with projects that appeal to the young folks and their parents as well. During the big 4th of July parade, we admired the fleet of small cars sponsored by Farrah Grotto and we also admire the Junior Crusader for Safer Driving idea that is now under way! The scene of activity is the White Way Drive-In Theatre (but you need not attend the show to have your 6 to 12 boys and boys participate in the program). Miniature cars are available with licensed instructors and inspectors on hand to assist the eager youngsters anxious to pass the Crusader driving test (and it's no cinch!). 85 is a passing mark but many of the lads and lassies have done far better. Grotto members stand by an official capacity to assure a well organized event which will continue through the month of September. Some 32 kids proudly received licenses on Saturday, 6 more Sunday, Monday it rained and we have no official count for last evening. Special rates will be held for those with license cards in the near future (one slated for Sunday about 2 p. m.) and it has been stated that eventual contests will be conducted on a state and nation-wide basis with certain automobile dealers offering scholarship awards to winners. The local Junior Crusader for Safer Driving program is one of 24 in the U.S.A. — it's an outstanding civic project — so why not support it? Your kids will not only enjoy the whole thing but they'll learn a lot, too.

Speaking of other things we admitted during the parade — in front of the judges' stand we saw the picture of the year — one small Rousseau fireman fell soundly asleep — his head (complete with helmet) dropped to the dashboard and his companion was unable to arouse him. He looked to be no older than three years and obviously 'he'd had it.' Do you know what a poly-lipid is? It's very simple — it's a "lipid polysaturate" — and that is possibly what your skin needs to replace! Actually it's age that depletes that big word stuff from your skin but the same is a vital element to living cells that are 50% richer in a 21-year-old skin than in skin aged 40. In this day of progress it stands to reason that some wise soul (or creator) would bring forth a cream to feed essential poly-lipids (don't you love that word, even though you can't pronounce it?) directly to your skin tissue and deeply penetrate to bring about a noticeable, revitalizing process. You'll notice a remarkable change with your first jar as excessive dryness and unnatural lines start to disappear. Your complexion will look fresher, finer-textured, radiantly clear looking.

Now's the time to try "Prince Matchabelli's Poly-derm" compensating cream to see the beautifully smooth, fresh look it gives your complexion. Make daily use of its active ingredients, normally found in healthy beautiful skin. Get "Polyderm" today at the place where beauty begins and continues — The Warren Drug Store, your Prince Matchabelli headquarters in this area!

Another parade highlight occurred when three outstanding young men led a division and had the good sense on a hot summer day to do so in walking shorts. There were comments from a few fellows in less comfortable attire, but these three guys looked "real cool." The trend to handsome shorts has grown slowly but steadily with the opposite sex — (even their wives approve!) — and with an air-cooled, short sleeved shirt, will give forth with a "haw haw" unless they envy the wearer! Seriously, we recommend an immediate visit to —

The Style Shop for this season's approved sportswear — shorts, shirts or slacks! No matter what your personal choice, you're bound to want "the best in menswear" and that's the byword at The Style Shop. Breezy, cool and wonderfully washable — that's what you'll find at this outstanding menswear shopping center so stop and shop before another hot and humid weekend catches up with you!

The Soap Box Derby certainly took every precaution this year to prevent firework casualties to our young people. If parents failed to heed the repeated warnings, we can only hope that no child gets hurt. It is also up to every person to commend this civic organization for a splendid holiday program of events. They did it again, but we feel certain that the tremendous attendance helped make July 4, 1958 the biggest and best ever! And, incidentally, didn't Queen Joan and her lovely quartet speak well of Warren and county? We must also comment to the effect that "Miss Pennsylvania" is, without qualification, one of the very nicest girls we've ever had the pleasure of meeting briefly. Warren has every reason to be extremely proud of its Jaycees

JET AGE RIVALS—Visitors to the recent British Columbia Centennial Aviation Show at Vancouver got a chance to compare Russian and U.S. commercial jet airliners parked at the airport. In the foreground, above, is America's showpiece, the Boeing 707, powered by four Pratt & Whitney JT3 engines. The twin-jet Tupolev TU-104, background, is a veteran of service in the Soviet Aeroflot national airline, but the 707 will be able to carry more passengers at higher speeds when it goes into service. Comparison view illustrates design ideas in the two countries, reflected both in military and commercial aircraft. Russians make the jet engine an integral part of the wing unit, while Americans favor the underslung type.

Receive Elk Scholarships

"TOM" McMANIGLE

Two outstanding Warren county high school graduates have been awarded four-year college scholarships by Warren Lodge No. 223, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, it was announced this week by the scholarship committee of the local lodge.

One scholarship is awarded annually by the Warren Elks to the graduate deemed most worthy of the honor, but because a previous scholarship recipient has surrendered the grant, two scholarships were awarded this year.

The two young men who have been given the 1958 scholarships are Jerome Lawrence Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Martin, 21 Biddle street, a member of this year's graduating class of Warren High School, and Thomas Lyle McManigle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. McManigle, 53 Jefferson street, Tidoute, who graduated from Tidoute Area Joint High School with the Class of 1957 and for the past year has been employed by the F. B. I. in Washington.

Martin was co-president of the senior class, was a member of the student council for three years and was elected to the National Honor Society. He played three years of football and was a member of the Latin Club, German Club and the Lettermen's Association. An Eagle Scout of Explorer Post No. 6, he was awarded the Ad Altari Dei medal in scouting. He will study aeronautical engineering at the University of Cincinnati.

McManigle, a three-year letterman on Tidoute Area's basketball and basketball teams, was a member of the Upper Allegheny Valley League All-Star basketball team for two years. Valedictorian of the Class of 1957, he was voted "Best Athlete" and "Most Likely to Succeed." Since graduation, he has been employed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He will major in mathematics and minor in biology with a view toward entering the teaching profession.

Current college students who hold the Warren Elks scholarships are Robert Stevens, son of Mrs. Florence Stevens, and John Hogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hogan, both of Warren, who are students at the University of Cincinnati.

DERBY UPS AND DOWNS

By Mary Harland

The Soap Box Derby of its most inspiring manifestations. And this year's third annual Soap Box Derby, whose winner will go to the 21st All-American race in Akron, Ohio, come August 17, will be a showcase for ingenuity, mechanical skill, the intelligence and the sportsmanship of 41 youngsters from Warren County between the ages of 11 and 15 inclusive, who have met the requirements for entrance into the contest that would stymie most any adult.

As the hour draws near for the start of the Third Annual classic, it is time to review some of the various and sundry tales of interest surrounding the Derby, and to relate some of the exciting events that await the winner of Saturday's race on the McPherson St. Derby Downs.

The midget hot-rodgers will assemble beginning at 11:45 a. m. Saturday morning at Bealy Junior High School, where last minute adjustments may be made on the racers. From this point, the parade line will form, and will step off to Derby Downs, followed by the contestants, rolling along merrily in Dan's new Chevrolet pick-ups. At the cars will be lined up and awaiting the riders, where they will descend and push their crates to top-side passing the review stand, where Frank Fillessi will be on hand at Mikeside, the contestants will be introduced to the spectators, who from their respective vantage of snow fence, will watch with interest and speculation.

To keep the nerves from shattering, and the nails from being bitten to the elbows, Concessions Chairman Hank Powell announces the convenience of two modern Coca Cola dispensers to be erected at both intersections on Derby Day. Of course, proceeds will be used to help defray the expense of the lucky lad's trip to Akron. And, as an added attraction, available to the public, at a very minimum cost, with full heat positions listed, so each viewer can follow the race, and keep track of the individual heat timings. There is no admission charge — FREE FREE FREE to the public.

The winner of each individual heat will be presented with a beautiful Soap Box Derby ring, plus a big field of special awards and trophies for the CHAMP and his runners-up. This year, Creed Erickson, Jr. is making possible a $1000 insurance policy with the first year's premium written off, to the grand winner. What a stake for some feller! And there are Umpteen other fascinating, sporting goods gifts, and games, for the boys! This year's Derby Director, Harry Spackman, ventured beyond the realm of his favorite subject, Biology, to study the anatomy of a Soap Box Derby racer. With spirits wailing, but Spackman still willing, this 1958 Derby looks like one of the finest events yet staged in Warren for our youth.

Despite the small number of contestants, planning for this year's classic, will include many innovations over past years. The parade, for instance, will reveal a Cavalcade of Chevrolets, shown by sponsor, Dan's Chevrolet, never before heralded on Derby Day. And the Warren Novelty Band, under the direction of Pete Bend, will keep the units stepping as they proceed from Bealy to McPherson Street Downs. The Candy Strippers, sponsors of young rheumatic fever victim, David Heimann, will march in their very attractive candy striped uniforms, while the Twirlettes under the guidance of Beverly Johnson, will set the pace for martial majesty. Two young gals, known for this specific event, as Derby-ettes, Sally Newhall and Faith Ann Harland, will appear in full regalia depicting Derby Day in helmets and T-shirts, with batons twirling in time to the music. And the '57 Champs, Frank Burgett, of Lander, and Dick Boyle, of Bradford, will join the line of march in honor of the 1958 field of Derby Drivers.

And there will be other notable dignitaries a-bord — namely, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Colletta, the '58 Derby Director from Bradford, and young Dennis Brandt, who copped the first place trophy in the Bradford race this year, and will compete in the National in Akron.

Yes, it's a great day for all of Warren County — SATURDAY, July 12—SOAP BOX DERBY DAY.

IVAN JURY

The Rev. R. Bruce Ryan, curate of Trinity Memorial church, officiated at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday for the funeral of Ivan Jury, 311 Hazel street, for many years manager of the Exchange Hotel. Serving as bearers for interment in Oakland cemetery were the following members of the Warren Lodge No. 223, BPOE, of which Mr. Jury was a member and trustee: R. L. Ruhlman, Gilbert Hansen, Franklin Henry, Joe Gobliger, Paul Niles and Harold Gustin.

Ritual of the same lodge was conducted at the graveside by the following: K. B. Graham, exalted ruler; Joe Gobliger, leading knight; Stewart Nelson, lecturing knight; Weston Ensworth, loyal knight; Howard Johnson, chaplain.

RALPH I. GHERING

Funeral services were held Tuesday in Titusville for Ralph I. Ghering, father of Mrs. Clyde Smail of Warren. The Rev. W. George Thornton, pastor of First Methodist church, officiated and interment followed in Troy Center cemetery.

Among those attending the rites from away were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smail, Nancy Smail, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Parish, Warren; Mrs. Ruth Daniels, Meadville.

LENNIE W. MOTTER

Rilla M. Porterfield, Fourth avenue, received word this morning that her brother-in-law, Lennie W. Motter, died at 9:00 p. m. Tuesday in Oil City Hospital. Aged 78, the Oil City man had suffered an extended illness.

Services in his memory will be held at 2:00 p. m. Friday in Oil City.

LILLIAN E. KARNIS

Miss Lillian Edna Karnis, sister of Miss Ruth C. Karnis of Warren, was found dead Tuesday in her apartment at Franklin. Native of that city, she formerly served as chief dietitian at West Penn Hospital in Pittsburgh and at the Department of Justice Medical Center in Springfield, Mo. During World War I, she enlisted for government service and spent two years at the U. S. Army Base Hospital at Vichy, France.

Funeral services at 2:00 p. m. Friday will be followed by interment in Franklin cemetery.

CARL W. NELSON

Carl Waldemar Nelson, aged 65, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ida Barker of 5 Alston street, at 12:20 p. m. Tuesday, having been in failing health for some time.

Mr. Nelson was born in Warren November 14, 1889, but moved to Denver, Colo., for his health at the age of 19. He spent some time in that city, and while there, enlisted in the Air Corps, serving as private first class in World War I, with eight months of overseas duty.

He later moved to Cleveland and was employed for a number of years by Halle Bros., coming back to Warren about a year ago. He was a member of Thatcher Lodge 429, F. and A. M., of Cleveland.

Besides his sister, Mrs. Barker, he leaves three cousins.

Funeral services at 2:00 p. m. Friday will be conducted by the Rev. Reed Hurst, of Epworth Methodist church, with interment following in Oakland cemetery.

Truman Remarks "Sarcastically" on Sherman Adams

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman, returning from a European vacation, said today it was up to President Eisenhower to decide whether to fire his assistant, Sherman Adams.

But Truman added tartly: "The government would be in a bad fix if he loses Adams—he's running it, you know."

Truman, fanned and beaming, met newsmen aboard the liner Constitution and right from the start he was peppered with questions about the storm stirred up in Washington over the congressional investigation of the relations between Adams and Boston Industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

He repeated the substance of a statement made in Cannes, France, to the effect that "the facts speak for themselves very eloquently" and that public reaction will be felt in the elections this year and two years hence.

office gave the order.

In Chicago, his statement drew quick denials from Thomas O'Donnell, who was state police superintendent that year, and Carl McGowan, who was Stevenson's administrative assistant.

Strang, who runs three restaurants in Cleveland and one in Niles outside Chicago, said his troubles were with Local 450 of the Restaurant Workers Union, then run by mobster Claude Maddox, now dead.

And Stevenson, en route to the Soviet Union for a tour, said today "no such orders were ever issued by the governor's office."

He added, "That's all I have to say."

Strang said he had defied the union's demands that he secretly force his employees to join. He said he learned later that the local, without consulting either him or the employees, enrolled them in its books as dues paying members.

And, he said, he learned that a $2,240 fee he had paid to Teitelbaum for helping in the negotiations actually was used to pay their dues.

Missing Man Found in West Virginia Lake

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—The bound and gagged body of a man reported missing a week ago was found floating in Cheat Lake Tuesday night, Sheriff Charles Whiston said.

Whiston said the victim was orville Campbell, 52, manager of a supply store at the coal mining community of National located just outside Morgantown.

Campbell's body was found bound and gagged with neckties and was weighed with two cement blocks. It was recovered near West Penn Beach on the backwater of the lake, about seven miles from here.

siders the basis for past objections by Canada has been largely removed and "the doors of consultation" will be kept fully open on this subject—"there must never be a final word between friends."

The President conceded that in the past the wheat program has caused inconvenience and occasional damage to Canada. But in several respects, he said, Canada stands to benefit from U.S. removal of surplus farm products into overseas consumption.

He contended that many hungry people have had food which they would not have had otherwise, that storage of the products would have depressed the world market and world prices. And, he said, the foreign funds obtained by the sales and made available to recipient countries in the long run should help raise living standards and enlarge the markets for everyone.

Canada also has been unhappy about an unfavorable balance of trade with the United States running to around one billion dollars a year.

Eisenhower observed that American goods flow across the border only because Canadian consumers want to buy them.

To try to balance the trade books once a month or once a year with every nation, he said, would stifle trade rather than expand it. Furthermore, he said, Canada's export deficit to the United States is offset by export surpluses to other countries and by the flow of investments to Canada.

While the question of control of some Canadian industries by American citizens is raised, these industries are subject to Canadian law, he pointed out.

He noted that U. S. investments have helped provide employment, tax revenues and other benefits to Canada.

If there are defects in the investment process, Eisenhower said, he is confident ways will be found to correct them, because this is in the interest of both countries.

Tuesday, the President Diefenbaker held a 95-minute meeting in the Prime Minister's study. They discussed briefly the American embargo on trade with Communist China, said presidential press secretary James C. Hagerly. The embargo disturbs Canada because of pressure on its subsidiaries of American firms to observe the boycott.

Goldfine

Boston millionaire's sleep had been shattered by spectacular events since his return to Washington Sunday.

In one middle-of-the-night incident the subcommittee's chief investigator was caught with a hidden microphone next to the hotel room of a Goldfine publicity man, Jack Lotto. The subcommittee sleuth, Baron I. Shacklette, quickly joined the ranks of the unemployed.

The Goldfine's blonde book-keeper, Mildred Paperman, reported that some documents brought down for the inquiry were stolen from her room in the same hotel, the Sheraton-Carlton.

ly agreed to the solicitor's advice and adjusted their rates for the entire year.

However, Judge Flick has ruled that the actual rate as stated in the Commonwealth fee bill provided definitely that the fee should be 50 cents for "each instrument" and ordered that rate set in the future.

During 1957, both office holders adjusted rates for the entire year, charging the lower 10-cent fee. Judge Flick this morning ordered county commissioners to pay the Prothonotary $661.70, the difference between the $172.30 he received for a 10-cent charge, and the $834 he would have gotten from the correct 50-cent fee.

Register and Recorder's office will receive $701.20, the difference between the $182.80 it received at the 10-cent fee rate and the $884 to which the office was entitled.

Judge Flick also ordered that as soon as payments are made, the County Auditors shall file a Supplement to their report for the adjustment of said amounts.

The judge ordered further that costs in both appeals by the office holders shall be paid by the county as provided by law.

Atlas Ballistic Missile Has Successful Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The first fully powered Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile probably will be ready for launching soon.

The 57-foot rocket, biggest ballistic weapon in the U. S. arsenal, roared through what appeared to be a successful ground or static test Tuesday.

The Convair-developed missile housed three engines—a main sustainer and two boosters—for the first time. All three are needed to push the Atlas 6,000 miles through space.

In previous tests, which covered limited range, only the two booster rockets were used.

Commencement for Hospital Technicians Thursday at 4

The fourth Commencement Exercises of the Warren State Hospital Psychiatric Technicians will be held in the Hospital Auditorium at 4 p. m. Thursday when 14 new technicians will be graduated from the two-year course which was established to enable those individuals interested in the care of the mentally ill, to develop a better insight and understanding.

The instruction consists of lectures, demonstrations, conferences, group discussions, and clinical practice under the direct supervision of qualified nursing personnel. All assigned experience and instruction is directly related to the care and understanding of the mentally ill patient. The curriculum advisor is Dr. Lockwood Towne and the instructor is Edith E. Keller, R. N.

After the ceremonial, there will be greetings by Dr. Robert H. Israel, superintendent of the Hospital, and the Commencement address will be given by the Rev. Francis E. Fehlman, one of the Hospital Chaplains. Diplomas will be presented by Merle H. Deardorff, a member of the Board of Trustees, and the benediction will be by the Rev. William B. Adams.

The Pennsylvania Psychiatric Technicians' Association was founded in 1952 when the first group of technicians was graduated by Warren State Hospital. A charter for the organization was granted by the Court, and the local group comprises Chapter One. All newly formed groups organized within the state must meet the standards of the Charter and subsequently become a new Chapter within the organization. At present there have been 57 persons graduated from this program. The present class will make 71.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK (AP)—Some tobacco scores gains but the stock market as a whole was barely changed in moderately active early trading today.

Most leading stocks showed gains or losses in the minor fractions. A good number were unchanged.

The opening was fairly brisk and there was an assortment of fairly big initial blocks. Then trading slowed.

A few of the major steelmakers improved. U. S. Steel and Youngstown Sheet added sizable fractions. Bethlehem and Republic Steel eased.

Stengel Leads His American Leaguers to Third Victory Over Record of Five Losses

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Billy Pierce's arm tightened up in the bullpen so Billy O'Dell, another southpaw, went in to pitch. Gil McDougald had not made a hit in his last 18 times at bat and Manager Casey Stengel figured this might be the spot for him to "get rid of the collar."

Of such little things are All-Star Games won—and lost.

O'Dell, Baltimore's first bonus player, undoubtedly was the pitching star although veteran Early Wynn of Chicago was credited with the American League's comeback 4-3 victory Tuesday over the Nationals.

McDougald hit a pinch single with one out and two runners on base in the seventh inning, driving in Boston's Frank Malzone from second with the run that snapped a 3-3 tie. The Yankee infielder was called off the bench by Stengel to bat for Wynn, who pitched only one inning—a scoreless sixth.

It was the American League's second successive All-Star triumph and its 15th in 25 clashes.

For Casey, it was his third summer success as compared with five defeats. A crowd of 48,829 paid $183,253.21 into the players' pension fund.

"It might be a bad omen," the grizzled Yankee skipper said. "Every time I win the All-Star Game, I lose either the pennant or the World Series. I win in 1954 and lose the pennant to Cleveland. I win again in 1957 and lose the World Series to Milwaukee."

Casey praised three of the four pitchers he used—Cleveland's Ray Narleski, Wynn and O'Dell. He said that Bob Turley, his own right-hander, who was clipped for all the National League runs before he was relieved by Narleski in the second, was too wild.

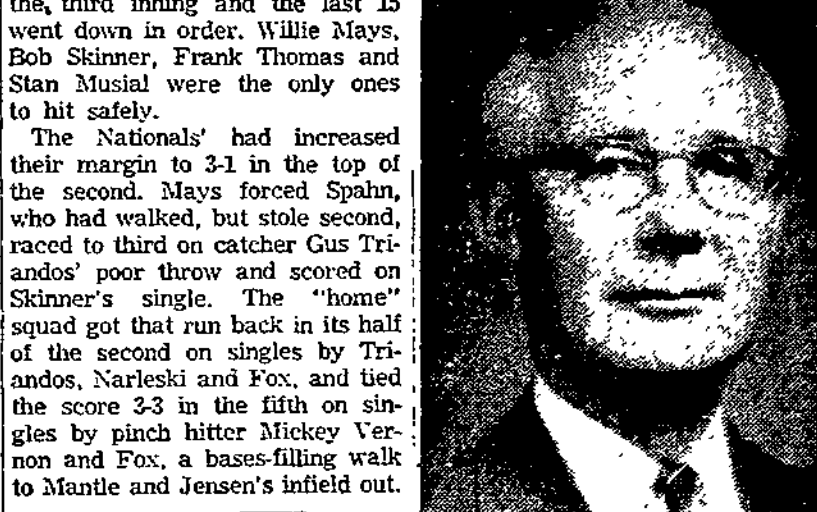

"It just shows you that good pitchers can top good hitters," Stengel said of his guys who limited the National League's best power hitters to four hits, all singles. In fact, the Americans' nine hits off Warren Spahn, loser Bob Friend, Larry Jackson and Dick Farrell were all singles too, making it the first All-Star Game that was devoid of extra-base hits.

Stengel had special praise for O'Dell, who retired nine batters in order in the last three innings to protect the Americans' one-run lead. The slender South Carolinian, mixing a good fast ball with a snapping slider, struck out two and permitted only one ball to be hit out of the infield. That was pinch hitter Johnny Logan's liner, on which Ted Williams made a leaping catch in the seventh.

Stengel would not admit that O'Dell was a second choice to take the mound in the seventh. Pierce, however, acknowledged that Jim Turner, Casey's chief lieutenant, had advised him to "get ready because you're going in," when McDougald was sent up as a pinch hitter.

"I was heating up hurriedly,"

Clifford Betts Soap Box Derby Awards Speaker

Clifford Betts, above, President of Betts Machine Company in Warren, has been chosen the guest speaker for the 1958 Derby Banquet to be held at 7:00 p. m. Saturday evening for 1:15 p. m. The Awards Banquet climaxes the great day for the field of Derby Drivers, who win or lose, join in the festivities at Beatty Cafeteria when the awards and trophies are presented.

Mr. Betts, one of Warren's civic leaders, has long shown "a whale of an interest in our youth," and is presently President of the Chief Cornplanter Council of Boy Scouts. He finds time to devote his energies to the famous Boy Choir of Warren, having been a backer of this group since its conception.

Mr. Betts admits that the Hot Stove League, Warren's Junior baseball league, is his pet. Betts Machine Company actually sponsors a team in this little league, and according to Mr. Betts, is one of the outstanding activities for boys that has been inaugurated, and he is strongly in favor of the Jaycees' Soap Box Derby, giving boys a great chance to put their minds and hands to good use, and to teach them the fundamentals of good sportsmanship, good fellowship, and craftsmanship.

Braves Opening Series in Los Angeles Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Manager Walt Alton is going to his bench again in an effort to put some punch into the light-hitting Los Angeles Dodgers, who open a three-game series with Milwaukee tonight.

Heartened by the hitting of Norm Larker after the rookie first baseman was called on to replace the slumping Gil Hodges, Alton is turning to another reserve first baseman — Steve Bilko.

The burly Bilko, acquired in the Don Newcombe trade with Cincinnati, takes over first base tonight with Larker shifting into left field. Jim Gilliam, who has been Alton's left fielder most of the season, will join Hodges on the bench.

"We need punch," said Alton, "and maybe Bilko's the guy who can give it to us. I'm aware of Steve's home run hitting for the Los Angeles Angels. I just hope he can hit some for us. He'll get a real try. This won't be any one-day proposition."

Dodger rookie Stan Williams (3-3) will be the starting pitcher tonight, facing Brave rookie Carl Willey (2-1).

REYNOLDS MEMORIAL
The calling cards of many famous names in the harness racing sport will be presented for the remainder of the week at Buffalo Raceway where the Reynolds Memorial Stake No. 7 opens tonight with the 3-Year-Old Filly Trot. The initial event in the 4-race division of the Reynolds has drawn a light entry but succeeding events during the stake will build up, with the heaviest entry expected for the 3-Year-Old Pace, starring Messenger winner O'Brien Hanover, on Saturday night. Tonight's $3,279 purse will be divided 4 ways (50%, 25, 15, and 10), assuring all 4 visiting declarants a piece of the Reynolds money. Favored to take the winner's share is John Simpson's Anna Dares.

McDougald Hopes To End Batting Slump Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees' Gil McDougald, Hero of Tuesday's American League 4-3 All-Star victory over the Nationals, hopes he will end his batting slump tonight when the Yankees play the Cleveland Indians.

The Yankee shortstop, whose sixth inning, pinch hit single drove in the winning AL run in Baltimore, is 0-for-18 in regular competition. His hit Tuesday was the first since last Thursday, when he had a single against Washington.

Since then his batting average has tumbled 20 points to .284.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, with an 11-game lead over second place Boston and Kansas City, sends his ace lefty, Whitey Ford (10-3) against right-hander Cal McLish (5-5).

This is the only AL game scheduled on what had originally been an open date. However, a series washout in May set up this game as one of a day-night double-header Thursday.

The rest of the league swings back into action Thursday night with a two-night doubleheader at Baltimore where the Kansas City A's take on the Orioles, and single games with Washington hosting Detroit and Chicago visiting Boston.

Freshmen Draw Raves of Veterans In All-Star Game

BALTIMORE (AP) — All-Star freshmen Billy O'Dell of Baltimore and Dick Farrell of Philadelphia drew the raves of the veterans for their pitching in base ball's annual battle of the leagues.

Southpaw O'Dell wasn't credited with the American League's 4-3 victory over the Nationals Tuesday. But he moved down the Nationals' 1-2-3 in the last three innings.

In All-Star competition pitchers are limited to three innings apiece so the official scorers have some discretion in selecting a winner. Early Wynn, the aged White Sox right-hander, worked only one inning but he retired the Nationals in order and he was still pitcher of record when the Americans went ahead to stay in the sixth.

For that reason Wynn received the victory, fitting enough as it was his first in five years as an All-Star.

But it was O'Dell, 25 in his second full season with the Orioles, who caused American League clubhouse talk.

"He made all those National League batters look the same size didn't he?" said Manager Casey Stengel.

O'Dell was Baltimore's first bonus player when the city was returned to major league baseball in 1954 and its cheapest.

He threw fast balls and sliders to the full National League lineup and only one of them, pinch hitter Johnny Logan of Milwaukee, was able to hit one past the infield.

Don Essig Plays Field and Inx In National Open

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — It's Don Essig against the field and a jinx today in the opening round of match play in the National Public Links Golf tournament.

Essig, who lives in Indianapolis and plays for the Louisiana State golf team, faces husky 25-year-old Walt Durdle, a park district greenskeeper in Peoria, Ill., in the first heat of man-to-man combat.

A double round today will trim the field of 64 qualifiers to 16. Two more rounds Thursday will set up the 36 hole semi-finals Friday, leading to the final Saturday over a 36-hole route.

The 155-pound, 6-foot Essig, a former caddy, is the defending titlist.

Essig also became medalist, winding up the 36-hole tests Tuesday with 141, two strokes under the stubborn Silver Lake course par for the distance. He was the only one in the field of 150 to break the standard.

Some Information About Derby Downs

On Derby Day, the following areas will be blocked off to traffic:

Home Street, Wood Street, Alexander Street for transporting racers to and from top-side.

Upper McPherson above Wood Street will be open to traffic, with exit through Hill Street.

Conewango Avenue will not be blocked off.

Residents affected by the Saturday barricade are asked streets before 10:00 a. m. to move their vehicles to side Lane lines will be painted Thursday evening.

Spectators on hand for the race are asked to respect the property rights of the residents along the race route, and be especially careful about littering and otherwise infringing unfairly on the grounds. A stretch of highway snow fence will be erected to protect observers. Don't be a litterbug come Derby Day—Help keep McPherson Street Derby Downs, BEAUTIFUL!

Toronto Businessman New President of Kiwanis Int.

Kenneth B. Loheed, Toronto, Ontario, businessman, has been named President of Kiwanis International. He was elected to the number-one Kiwanis post Wednesday July 2, by delegates attending the 43rd annual convention of Kiwanis International in Chicago. News of Loheed's election was received today by officers of the Kiwanis club of Warren, Pa.

As head of Kiwanis International, Loheed will be official spokesman for more than a quarter million Kiwanians in tion, and a past member of the Toronto Board of Trade. He is also a member of the Board of Stewards of the Eglington United Church. Socially, Loheed is a member of the Granite Club of Toronto, and an alumnus of Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity. The president-elect attended the Wharton School of Finance of the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. He is a former United States Marine.

The president-elect has been a member of Kiwanis for 33 years. Immediately prior to his selection as leader of Kiwanis International, he was vice president of the organization for two years. He has also served for a two year term as a trustee of Kiwanis International. Loheed is a past president of his home Kiwanis Club in Toronto, and a former Lieutenant Governor and Governor of the Ontario-Quebec Maritime Kiwanis District. During his long career he has served as a member and as chairman of numerous district committees. He was Chairman of the International Committee on Public and Business Affairs for Canada in 1952; and he has served as a member of four international committees. Mr. and Mrs. Loheed have a married daughter and a son.

Attendance at the Chicago convention — Kiwanis' 43rd — number approximately 43,000, to make the convention one of the organization's largest. A high point of the affair was the laying of the cornerstone for Kiwanis' new permanent home office building at 101 E. Erie on Chicago's near-north side. The million dollar structure will be ready for occupancy in January of 1959.

In addition to naming Loheed president, the delegates chose two vice-presidents, a

BOYLE'S COMMENT

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Bora Bora is green and cool and quiet," said Raminé.

Raminé, 18, is the champion hula dancer of Tahiti in the South Pacific. She is pretty and has the grace of a fluid, honey-colored pretzel.

"Bora Bora, where I was born, is 75 miles south of Tahiti. It is about the size of Manhattan Island, but not so large a population. We have 1,600 persons.

"If you went there you could live like a Tahitian for $50 a month — and there is nothing wrong in that. We do not have a treasurer and six international trustees.

parking problem on Bora Bora, as there are only seven cars.

"There are no psychiatrists. There are no worries, as there is nothing to worry about. Just have a good time.

"We have plenty of fruit and fish. We live in the palm and bamboo house. You can make such a house in one day.

"Everybody dance on Bora Bora. You dance as soon as you walk. Our hula is different than Hawaiian hula, where they use the hands slow. We use more the hips—but very fast.

"You just go wild. Not bad. Just wild.

"Yes, we dance all the time. If you are cooking and somebody start tapping with his fingers, you stop and do the hula.

"Crime? They steal some on Bora Bora, but I don't heard of anyone ever killing anybody in my lifetime. Nobody even kill himself.

"If they drink too much, sometimes they beat the wives. But they don't murder her.

"Sometimes she need beating, too. She yell, she cry, and fight back, too. But soon it is all passed away, and they dance hula again.

"Life very comfortable in Bora Bora. Only thing you need money for is clothes, and you don't wear many clothes.

"We have nice drink called pineapple beer. Delicious! Make you walk zig-zag, too. It take long time to make real good pineapple beer. Sometimes a month.

"It very cheap for boy and girl to go out in Bora Bora. They dance hula, drink all pineapple beer they want for 50 cents. No taxicabs. Make own fun. Nice evening.

Raminé had beginner's luck during her visit to Manhattan. She went to the Belmont race track, bet on six races, won on five, and came home $50 ahead. She appeared on a television program and won a watch, a silver platter and a bottle of perfume.

"I like this island," she admitted. "It certainly fascinating."

But she shook her long dark braids firmly at the suggestion she settle down and become a permanent resident.

"It's nice place to visit," she said carefully, "but I don't think I'd want live here."

RADIO and TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — Constant Viewer, if his television habits are rigid, is now in the midst of a 13-week period of reliving his past.

For every hour of new material he glimpses on his home screen, he'll see 90 minutes of repeated film and television shows.

And new material this summer primarily means people playing parlor games or answering quiz questions before a camera.

Off-told tales add up to the magnificent total of about 45 hours a week—out of the total of 75 hours of prime network time on the combined three big networks. The odds are 3-2 that if you tune in your favorite channel at a favorite time you'll see something you have seen before.

This situation makes for some unhappiness in spite of network efforts to promote the summer reruns as the cream of last season's crop returned only because of the viewers' demands. But the TV repeat is considered one of broadcasting's facts of life.

"It is an industry problem rather than a network problem," says ABC's program head Tom Moore. "It is necessary to amortize the cost of a program over a 52-week period so there must be repeats when tune-in is low."

Thus it is the usual practice to make 26, or 39 films in a series and then cut costs by showing 13 or even 26 of the shows a second time to reduce the average cost per program. July and August are considered ideal times for showing in repeats because, as Moore explains, "there is a variance of one third in the TV audience." (Translation: one third of the audience is missing in the vacation months.)

Industry executives have all sorts of surveys, reports and analyses to explain why everybody in the audience loves a repeat or rerun, and they pooh-pooh any suggestion there could be a better way to handle the problem.

Privately, however, TV officials fret considerably about audience discontent over the rerun situation. They spend the winter months building up listener loyalties to shows. Then in the hot weather months their audience is practically forced onto other channels.

Why not replace the show with repeats from another night and another hour, and perhaps hit a new audience?

"Sponsors," says a network executive. "The sponsors don't want to. They want complete identification with a show, so they would rather keep a show on repeat than bring in something temporary."
